Overview: 2022 Final Accounts

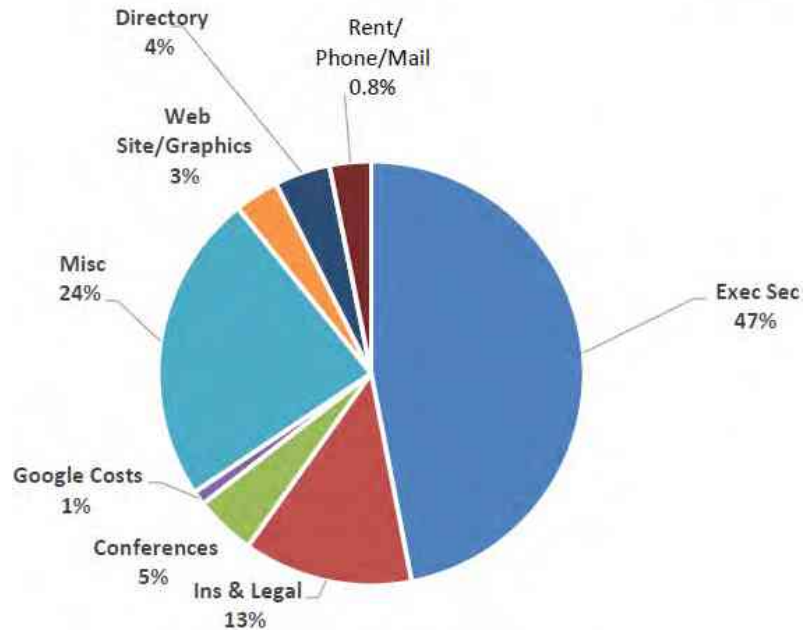

Years 2020, 2021, and 2022 have not followed the normal pattern of transactions charted over the past two decades. Years 2020 and 2021 were affected by the pandemic and lockdowns, while 2022 was dominated by the London AIA International Conference, for which the UK Chapter undertook all of the event and financial planning.

In 2020 – the first year of the covid lockdowns – we had the largest profit in the 25 year history of the chapter. This was reversed in 2021, as event expenditure increased to counterbalance the lack of events in 2020 and resulted in the largest loss in Chapter history.

For 2022 we see an overall loss, however this was anticipated and is in line with our budget. Cash reserves are still significantly above previous years.

Expenses

Expenses:

- General Expenses remained relatively stable. The Chapter Executive expense will be increasing next year as per agreement
- There was a one-off expense for a security review, which may have implications on future working practice
- The bulk of spending was on events

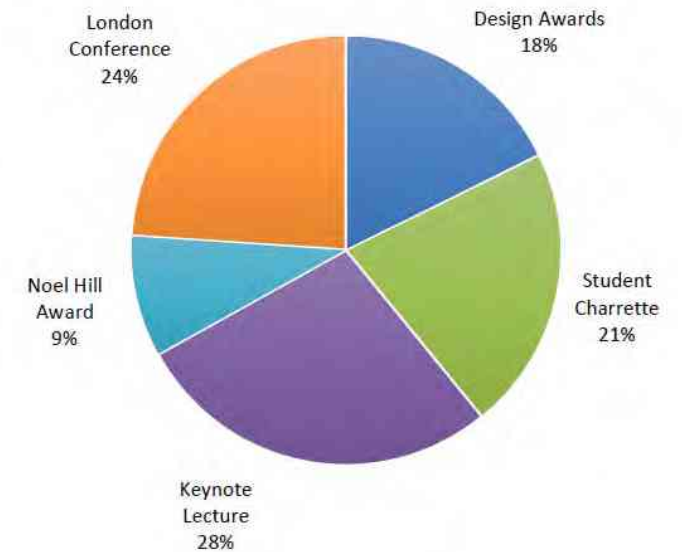

Income

Income:

- Dues Income has remained stable and Revenue Sharing from sale of AIA documents has returned to pre-pandemic levels
- Sponsorship was strong in 2022 with new sponsors added

Event Expenses/Major Events

Event Expenses:

- The budget for the London Conference was managed by the UK Chapter, with contributions from AIA Continental Europe and AIA International
- Expenses for the signature events of the Design Awards, Keynote Lecture and the Student Charette were slightly higher than in previous years, but in line with budget expectations

United Kingdom

Comparison to Previous Years

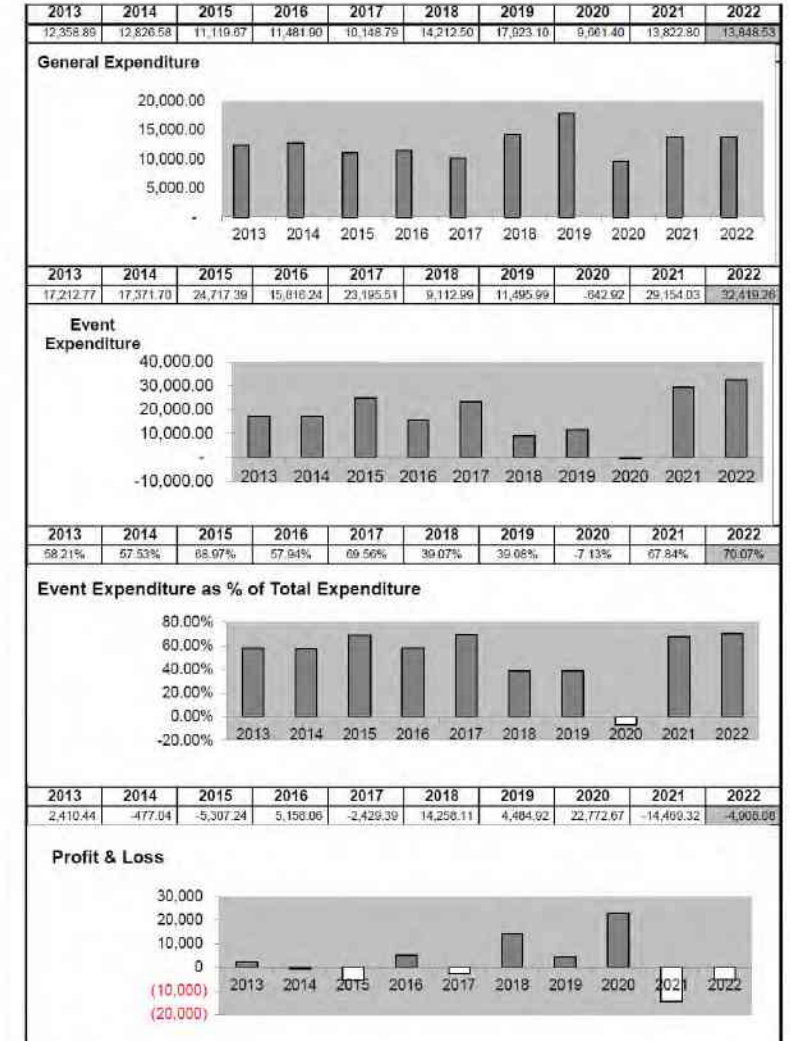

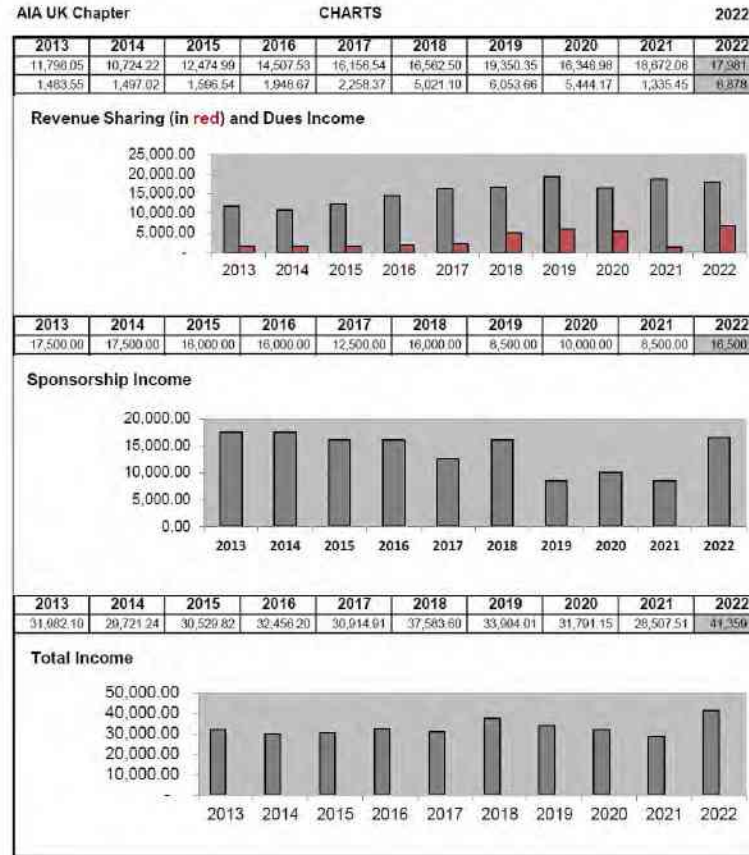

Dues Income has remained stable. Revenue from AIA National's sale of AIA documents in the US has recovered, after a dip last year

Sponsorship Income has been strong despite the restrictions on live events during the pandemic

Total Income has recovered after a slight drop over the unusual conditions during 2020/2021

General Expenditure has remained stable throughout the year and looks set to continue

Profit & Loss: while the graph shows a loss this year, this is in line with what was expected and shows a return to normal levels

We move into 2023 in a strong financial position:

- Positive bank balance
- Good relationships with current sponsors look set to continue
- However, it would benefit the chapter to seek new and additional sponsorship, and to consider allocating named sponsors to specific events
- Costs for events need to be carefully considered to ensure best value
- Opportunities for more in-person events in 2023 should allow for additional growth for exposure and revenue growth

The AIA UK online member directory is up and running! This site can be accessed via the 'Membership' tab on aiauk.org. Please note the following!

- One must be both an AIA UK member and logged in to see the directory (it is not automatically public)
- Members must request a password on the first log in. This will be with your AIA UK registered email. If you don't know what it is, email membership@aiauk.org and we can tell you (or correct it!).
- Members can enter/update their own information and dictate how that information is displayed on the directory.

The screenshot shows the 'MANAGE PROFILE' page on the AIA UK website. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links for ABOUT US, THE BOARD, NEWS, MEMBERSHIP, EVENTS, INITIATIVES, RESOURCES, and FREE LEGAL HELPLINE. A 'Please Note' section explains that updates to the local AIA UK member profile are not reflected in the AIA National (AIA.org) account. Below the notice, there are two options for user authentication: 'Sign In with your email and password' (selected) and 'Request Password'. The 'Sign In' option includes input fields for 'Email' and 'Password', and a 'Sign In' button. The 'Request Password' option includes a note that a new password will be emailed. At the bottom, there are social media icons for Twitter, Facebook, and LinkedIn, and a copyright notice for AIA UK 2019.

The cloud based software allows for better chapter management such as integration with mailing list software and events calendar.

Allows members to update their own directory profile and provide access to view and contact other AIA UK members.

This information is separate from AIA National information please keep you contact information updated at both locations (aia.org & aiauk.org) so that you remain informed of all local events as well for proper billing and AIA national correspondence!

If you have any membership questions including about the directory please email the membership director at membership@aiauk.org
